Please read and sign below to indicate that you have read and understand the conditions for enrollment in this “Live & Learn Community.”

I understand the following selection information:

- I will have placed into English 101 as a result of my UW System Placement Tests.
- I should take the required placement tests on the earliest possible dates available.
- I will be pre-registered for three specific core classes: English 101, Psychology 202, and Freshman Seminar.
- For this core group of classes, I will receive an Interdisciplinary Studies designation, which will fulfill that Associate Degree requirement.
- The majority of students will be required to live in one of the Campus View Residence Halls. A few students will be chosen who live in the community to add to the dynamics of the group.
- I will be able to choose my own roommate or have a roommate assigned to me.

Fees Required: $25 UW System English and math placement test fee—will be included with tuition and fees
$100 Advance Tuition Deposit—must be paid prior to class registration
These are standard fees for all new students; these are not special fees for this program alone.

Enrollment in the “Live & Learn Community” is limited to 20 students. Final selection is based on placement test results.

Key months and dates to keep in mind:

- April through early June – take placement tests
- May through June – official notification is sent regarding selection for the “Live & Learn Community”
- June – attend STAR (SummerTime Advising & Registration) session as early as possible
- September 1, Tuesday night before classes begin – initial meeting of the community will be held at 7:00 pm in the Residence Halls.
